

HEALTH CARE SERVICES CONTRACT

Welcome to East-West Integrated Healthcare. This document contains all the important information about our professional services and business practices. Please read it carefully and ask any questions you have about the information.

Naturopathic medicine requires an active effort on your part, and in order to be successful, you will need to be willing to make certain lifestyle, behavioral, and/or dietary changes. Naturopathic Medicine takes a comprehensive approach to wellness, focusing on the body, mind, and spirit. Naturopathic medicine can be very effective in treating both acute and chronic illness and is considered preventative in nature. Your initial visit is an information gathering session that allows Dr. Jennifer Calvo or Dr. Don Underwood to better evaluate your health care needs and then choose appropriate therapeutic treatments. If you have any questions or concerns, please let the doctor know at your initial visit, so they may be addressed immediately.

Naturopathic Medicine: A Naturopathic physician is trained as a general family practitioner. Naturopathic physicians combine modern laboratory and physical diagnostic tools with natural, nontoxic therapies that encourage the body's inherent healing abilities. Some of the treatments may include nutrition, herbal medicine, homeopathy, counseling, chiropractic manipulation, physiotherapy, electrotherapy, natural supplementation, and other natural remedies.

Acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine: Acupuncture is a five thousand year old medical tradition based on clinical observation and treatment. Diagnosis in Traditional Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture is based on observation, interview, pulse and tongue diagnosis, and other tools. Following an assessment, treatment may involve acupuncture, cupping, moxabustion, electrotherapy, bleeding, massage, and manipulation, TDP heat lamp, or other traditional treatments. Acupuncture involves the placement of sterile one-time use disposable needles into specific points on the body.

Homeopathy

Homeopathy is a system of medicine based on the Law of Similars that was founded over 200 years ago by Samuel Hahnemann, MD (1755-1843). A homeopathic remedy is an FDA approved medicine that consists of a very dilute substance. When given to someone who is healthy, a homeopathic remedy can bring about the same symptoms it can cure. When given to someone suffering from those symptoms, the body is stimulated to heal on its own and the symptoms resolve. Hence, the name, the Law of Similars, or like cures like. There are no side effects when using homeopathic remedies and no interactions to worry about. These remedies are safe to use on the youngest and most elderly patients.

Western and Traditional Chinese Herbal Medicine: Herbal medicine is based on clinical and laboratory research, as well as hundreds of years of folk medicine to address specific therapeutic goals. Herbal medicine may be prescribed as a tincture, capsule, tea, or solid extract for oral supplemental, or for topical or rectal application. Other forms of herbal treatments include aromatherapy and flower essences.

The right plan for you may be a combination of these therapies, which can be addressed, in a naturopathic first visit.

EXPERIENCE AND TRAINING OF OUR PHYSICIANS

Dr. Jennifer Gentry Calvo, N.M.D. and Dr. Don Underwood N.M.D., L.Ac. are Naturopathic Physicians. Naturopathic medicine is an emerging field that incorporates the training and knowledge of conventional medicine with a holistic, natural treatment paradigm. Naturopathic physicians, like other doctors, complete a four-year undergraduate degree, followed by a four-year doctorate of medicine in a school accredited by the board of education. Therapeutic modalities include homeopathy, botanical medicine, clinical nutrition, hydrotherapy, acupuncture, physical medicine, and counseling. Using these methods, Naturopathic physicians are able to work with patients to restore health from the inside out safely, and effectively, avoiding or limiting the use of harmful drugs and invasive surgeries.

Drs. Jennifer Gentry Calvo, N.M.D. and Don Underwood N.M.D. attended Southwest College of Naturopathic Medicine in Tempe, Arizona and hold active medical licenses with the state of Arizona.
